Carrying the whole message to the whole world!
Dear Friends,

As I write to you, I am overwhelmed by the sense of the great love with which our Father has blessed us. During this season when we particularly remember His birth, let us not forget His death, His resurrection, and His soon coming return! What a Wonderful Savior.

The year of 2011 has been a great time in the life of The Baptist College of Florida. These have been some of the most challenging times that we have ever faced in the economic condition of our country. Even during times such as these our people have been faithful in their stewardship, and our Lord has blessed us with provision for our needs. Yesterday we received our audit report for the last year, and I am delighted to report that we operated “in the black” for another year. This could not happen without the great sense of stewardship displayed by faculty and staff and the strong support of Florida Baptists. To each of you a hearty, “Thank You.”

Your College continues to operate without debt while having one of the lowest costs of attendance of any Baptist college in America. As you read this edition of Echoes, I hope that you will note the many blessings of our Lord in the development of academic programs, student activities and mission pursuits. We have been busy in the classroom learning of the needs of the world and the application of the answers provided by our Father. We have been busy in the mission fields reaching out to the masses who still need the touch of the Gospel. As we learn more, we go more. And as we go more, we see the need to learn more. It is a wonderful Circle of Service.

Please know that your Baptist College of Florida and its President count it all joy and great privilege to walk and work with you in the Service of our Savior.

God Bless You,

Tom Kinchen
President
Recently we were provided with a generous donation by a long time friend of the College. He has a great interest in the new Missions Aviation program, and showed that interest through the donation of a Beechcraft A36 Bonanza for the fleet. This plane will be used for cross country and complex aircraft training. The plane was donated as a “challenge” gift. The donor stated that the plane, valued at $200,000, is being given with the understanding that the College will raise an additional $200,000 in matching funds. These matching funds will be utilized to purchase the two additional training aircraft that are needed for initial flight training. The time frame that was set for raising the matching funds ends on December 31, 2011. At this time we have raised $65,000 of the needed $200,000. We need your help in reaching this goal. If you would be willing to make a gift please contact the President’s Office at (850)263-3261 ext. 445. If you know of other individuals who might be interested in helping please contact them or let us know so that we can make contact with them.

Alan Wins Presidential Excellence in Preaching Award

Todd Alan, a senior at The Baptist College of Florida (BCF) in Graceville, was selected as the fall semester winner of the Excellence in Preaching Award presented by BCF President Thomas A. Kinchen and wife Ruth Ann. As the title holder, Alan was given the opportunity to preach in chapel before his peers and faculty members on Tuesday, November 29.

Alan preached from the Book of Nahum, using the first chapter to remind the audience that they could depend on God’s power and justice just as the Old Testament audience could.

Competing with ten other BCF preaching students, Alan earned the high honor after presenting his sermon before a panel of faculty judges and a student gallery. He was given a commemorative Bible during Senior Honor’s Day Wednesday, November 30, by President Kinchen.

Graduating with honors, Alan will receive a Bachelor of Arts in Ministry Studies during the graduation ceremony to be held in the BCF Assembly Center on Friday, December 9. Todd has faithfully served as the Director of Missions for the Holmes County Baptist Association and following graduation will be moving to North Carolina to attend seminary at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.
Additions to BCF Campus always make for an exciting time in the life of the institution. That tradition continued Thursday, November 3, as the Gardner Center for Music and Worship was officially opened at the 10:15 a.m. dedication ceremony honoring the man for which it is named, Dr. Milton Gardner.

It was picture perfect weather as the College Winds, under the direction of Professor Ron Branning, opened the ceremony with "Hosanna, Praise is Rising." BCF President Thomas A. Kinchen welcomed those gathered immediately followed by the Winds performing "How Deep the Father's Love."

Dr. Jimmy Clanton, a long-time member of the First Baptist Church of Thomasville, Georgia, told those assembled how he became involved with the music and worship center project and shared some compassionate words about his pastor, Dr. Gardner. Music and Worship Division Chair Bill Davis followed Clanton's remarks with gracious expressions of appreciation for the new Music and Worship Division facility and the exciting plans to utilize the new accommodations.

Davis then conducted the College Choir in "Hear the Call of the Kingdom," before President Kinchen addressed those gathered. Offering gratitude and praise, Kinchen shared with the audience about Gardner's dedication to the expansion of the Kingdom of God and his years of service to the Lord.

The BCF Jazz Ensemble performed a beautiful rendition of "Amazing Grace," before Gardner humbly thanked those gathered and offered the Prayer of Dedication.

The College Choir sang "Mighty is the Power of the Cross" as BCF officials joined Dr. and Mrs. Gardner in cutting the ribbon for the official opening of the center located just behind Shepherd's Cottages in Heritage Village.

The new Gardner Center houses all of the classrooms, practice areas, and offices for the Music and Worship Division.

Albany Marine Band
Performs at BCF

The Baptist College of Florida opened its doors to the Albany Marine Band from Albany, GA Tuesday, October 11 for an unprecedented show of patriotism. The Assembly Center was filled with members of the BCF family and community for a breathtaking performance by the talented men and women of the United States Marine Corps.

The Albany Marine Band was formed in 1990 and currently under the direction of Chief Warrant Officer (CWO3) Christian Flores. Flores provided the audience with a little history of the group before introducing the program for the evening entitled "Here We Stand." Feeding off of the title and elaborating on why military members are willing to stand for freedom, Flores recognized the men and women in the audience that served in the Armed Forces.

The inspiring program reflected times when America suffered great tragedy, triumphed over huge adversity, and highlighted the NASA shuttle program. Featured performances included a New Orleans' jazz segment, an arrangement of Star Trek, and a skillful seven piece ensemble that infused the crowd with excitement called the Junkyard Devil Dogs under the direction of SSgt Talbot. Their style hit a slower note with Michael Buble's "Feeling Good," which featured saxophone soloist Staff Sergeant Jordan Dixon, and Victor Young's "When I Fall in Love." The final selection was reminiscent of the days of swing music and WWII with Glenn Miller's "In the Mood."

Bandmaster Gunnery Sergeant Gary Gilbert directed the group in two pieces, beginning with Irving Berlin's "God Bless America," which the audience joined in singing and Michael W. Smith's "There She Stands," featuring soloist Sergeant Amanda Kranendonk.

CWO3 Flores directed "Freedom's Shield" written specifically for the Albany Marine Band followed by a moment of silence honoring the men and women who gave their lives for freedom, punctuated by a bittersweet performance of "Taps." The band played "America the Beautiful" and the always moving "Armed Forces Tribute." The final selection, which was the Marine Corps anthem, was played with particular gusto by these awe inspiring musicians.

With just a little crowd encouragement, the group paid homage to their station's Georgia roots with an arrangement of Ray Charles' "Georgia on My Mind," featuring the profoundly talented drumline. The band ended the night with "Stars and Stripes Forever," met with applause and cheering from an overwhelmed crowd. BCF President Thomas A. Kinchen commended the band for their performance and service to our country and remarked that, "BCF has been named a military-friendly college, but here at BCF, we are not only military-friendly, we will always be pro-military!"
BCF Opens Campus for Another Fun-Filled Preview Day

After a night of rain, prospective students were welcomed to campus by a crisp breeze and warm smiles. More than 100 students brought family and friends to tour the ever expanding BCF campus.

Registration began in the R.G. Lee Chapel at 9 a.m. where current BCF students gather to worship three days a week. Potential students were greeted by BCF Director of Marketing and Admissions Sandra Richards, who introduced an artistic percussion segment orchestrated by student Andy Smith, whose crew used push brooms as a unique rhythmic source. BCF President Thomas A. Kinchen then shared with those in attendance all that the Lord is doing in and through the students at BCF to fulfill the call of "Changing the World Through the Unchanging Word."™

After Kinchen’s remarks, Music and Worship Division Chair Bill Davis invited those gathered to participate in an inspirational hour of student-led praise and worship featuring the College Choir, Praise Team, College Singers, Women’s Ensemble, Male Chorale and the College Orchestra.

The cool winds did not deter visitors from touring all the exhibits displayed in front of the Assembly Center. Faculty members, students and staff gathered around the exhibit booths explaining all of the opportunities offered at BCF including campus activities, mission trips, intramural sports, campus ministries and the different academic options. Resident directors led guests on tours of the dormitories while BCF Admissions Counselor Barol Bailey took groups on walking tours of the campus facilities, including the recently dedicated Gardner Center for Music and Worship.

College seekers enjoyed lunch around the gazebo while the impressive BCF Jazz Band, led by Professor Ron Branning, provided delightful entertainment. After lunch, attendees had the opportunity to visit one of three classrooms or participate in the financial aid seminar. Davis hosted those interested in music, Donna Kincaid, Chair of the Elementary Education Division, provided information on the education programs, and former IMB Missionary and BCF Missions Professor Rich Elligson shared information on Missions and Theology.

After classes were dismissed, guests were invited to the BCF Assembly Center and treated to a sampling of music from the Music and Worship Division’s performances of "On With the Show," featuring the greatest hits from Broadway. The new Baptist Collegiate Ministry (BCM) Director Ashley Fredryk was introduced to guests and she shared information on the various ministries that BCM coordinates and supports throughout the year. BCM awarded a "College Survival Kit" to a visiting student.

Prospective students who submitted applications to BCF on Preview Day had their application fee waived, and also participated in the final event of the day which included two five hundred dollar scholarships. Kenneth Miller and Casey Ranalli were this semester’s scholarship recipients. Miller is from Branford, Fla., and is a member of Pine Grove Baptist Church. Ranalli is from Bronson, Fla., and is a member of the First Baptist Church of Bronson.

Plans are already underway for Spring Preview Day, which is scheduled for March 16.
In my unbiased and accurate opinion, the highlight of the November 2011 meeting of the Florida Baptist Convention was the service and worship leadership provided by The Baptist College of Florida. From the time that messengers arrived they felt the warmth and friendly smiles of the BCF students serving in the registration booth. This gave those in attendance their first taste of the “Red Shirts” as BCF students and staff became known for their signature outfits. Musical worship leadership during the Tuesday morning session of the convention was provided by the Music and Worship Division of the College. Messengers were clapping their hands, tapping their feet, and singing praises as the students and staff led in heartfelt worship. On more than one occasion I had leaders of the convention tell me that the BCF students gave them “new hope and excitement for the future of our Convention.” That is good news for BCF, but it is better news for Florida and a lost world.
I am tremendously excited about the progress that is being made in the construction and furnishing of a new Wellness Center on the BCF campus. We do a great job of graduating folks who have keen minds and hot hearts for Jesus. We can and must do a better job of making sure that our bodies are in good enough shape for the rigors of the work that is ahead for each of us. As a result of a recent generous donation, we are in the planning phase of construction for the Wellness Center. We hope to break ground in January 2012. The Wellness Center will provide us with a state of the art facility for physical fitness and enhanced health. God continues to provide resources for blessing His people and His school.

Although they occur like clockwork every semester, graduations at The Baptist College of Florida (BCF) in Graceville are still welcomed with jubilation and excitement by each graduating class. Friday, December 9, was certainly no different as degrees were conferred on fifty seniors in the Assembly Center at 10 a.m.

Black caps and flowing gowns filled the aisles when the graduates marched into the building as the BCF Brass Ensemble, under the direction of Professor Ron Branning, played the traditional “Pomp and Circumstance.” The commencement service officially began with the invocation led by Jacksonville Site Director Joe Molina and followed by Music and Worship Division Chair Bill Davis leading the congregation in hymn favorite “Great is Thy Faithfulness.”

BCF President Thomas A. Kinchen welcomed guests and recognized the family members of graduating seniors. The new English Professor David Grier then joined Kinchen at the podium to sign the Articles of Faith pledging to uphold the Christian doctrines and standards of The Baptist College of Florida.

The Male Chorale presented a special selection entitled “Then Will the Very Rocks Cry Out,” before Kinchen addressed the graduating class. Kinchen reminded those gathered that the world is still looking for Jesus just as they were years ago when He came and brought light into the world. “When they come asking to desperately see Jesus, will they see Him in you?” asked Kinchen. “The world is still looking. The world is still wondering.”

Senior Vice President R.C. Hammack presented the graduating seniors to Kinchen as recommended by the Registrar and approved by the faculty. Kinchen proceeded to confer degrees and instructed the graduates to move their tassel. Davis led the congregation in singing the College Hymn, “Tell Me the Story of Jesus,” and Grier pronounced the benediction.

BCF Recognizes Seniors at Honor’s Day

Graduating seniors, along with friends and family members, gathered in the R.G. Lee Chapel on Wednesday, Nov. 30 for Senior Honor’s Day. This day represents the culmination of hard work and determination for many graduates as they were recognized for having achieved academic honors.

Senior Class President John Paul Linton led the service beginning with a time of worship, praise and prayer. Senior Class Vice President Ryan Stinson introduced the class project and presented BCF President Thomas A. Kinchen with a light bulb, one of many the graduating class is providing to give more light to the campus and underscore the Christian mandate of being a light in a dark world.

Kinchen graciously thanked the senior class before delivering a powerful message about forgetting. The President encouraged the class to forget past sins, hurt feelings, failures, disappointments, and even successes. He reminded the graduates that it should always be their goal to remain focused on what the Lord is doing while looking ahead and not behind.

Senior Vice President R.C. Hammack recognized honor graduates as Kinchen congratulated each student and delivered their honor stoles. Hammack then announced the students receiving honors for having the highest grade point average in each discipline and presented them with certificates.

The service concluded with Linton leading the BCF College Choir and congregation in a moving praise service and closing prayer.

BCF Lady Eagles Recognized by NCCAA

The BCF Lady Eagles (NCCAA Division I) volleyball team recently completed their third season of competition. Their 2011 season could be summarized in two words -- tremendous growth. The team, led by returning Head Coach Rachel Lauen, started the season with the hope of improving both on and off the volleyball court. A primary focus of the BCF Volleyball Program is growth both athletically and spiritually.

The Lady Eagles started their season, on August 26th, with a set win over Concordia-Selma, but ultimately lost the match. Another early highlight of the 2011 season came on September 3, 2011 when the Lady Eagles earned their first home win in school history against Truett-McConnell College of Cleveland, GA.

While they continued to grow in sportsmanship and skill, the 2011 season was characterized by a few set wins and a great number of close losses.

Five Lady Eagles from the 2011 Team were recently recognized as they completed the season ranked nationally in the NCCAA All-Regional South Region. Chelsea Denson (Geneva, FL) completed the season ranked 2nd in Ace Average and 2nd in Digs and was named 2011 NCCAA All-Regional South Region, First Team All-American. Elizabeth Eaves (Daytona Beach, FL) completed the season ranked 7th in Digs and was also named 2011 NCCAA All-Regional South Region, First Team All-American. Peyton Kirk (Birmingham, AL) finished the season 22nd in Digs and 23rd in Serving Ace Average. Chloe Huettel (Naples, FL) ended the 2011 season ranked 10th in Ace Average and Brittany Roche (Chipley, FL) completed the season ranked 17th in Ace Average. Kirk, Huettel, and Roche were named to the 2011 NCCAA All-Regional South Region, Second Team All-American.

With several players on the 2011 roster returning next season, the 2012 Lady Eagles D-I Volleyball season looks as if it could be the most competitive one yet. If you are interested in attending BCF and trying out for the Lady Eagles, visit the school’s website at baptistcollege.edu and complete a Prospective Student Athlete Form on the Athletics page or call 800-328-2660 ext. 460.

There were over 1000 people that attended The Baptist College of Florida’s (BCF) annual Holiday Heritage Festival on Friday, November 18, as hearts were warmed ushering in the Christmas season. Guests were bundled together as they strolled through Heritage Village admiring the decorations and the old-fashioned surroundings. The historic buildings were filled with treasures as artisans came to display their handiwork and creative skills. From intricately designed toy trains, beautifully crafted paintings, detailed stone carvings, flawlessly sown quilts, expertise of a blacksmith, to the sweet smell of cane syrup brewing there was truly something for everyone.

Faculty and students from the BCF Music and Worship Division provided Christmas carolers and instrumental groups throughout the afternoon that delighted guests. Adding to the warmth and ambiance of the traditional holiday gathering, small contained fires were lit throughout the village keeping guests warm and smiling. The event was complete with several old-fashioned cars, handmade craft items, and delicious goodies baked by the faculty wives to raise money for the scholarship fund.

New to this year’s festival was a life size replica of the Tabernacle constructed by Patterns of Approach Ministries. There were guided tours of the Temple of Moses, filled with amazing historical facts bringing the true meaning of Christmas to the forefront as Jesus was born in a manger to be the ultimate sacrifice for the world.
The Music and Worship Division at The Baptist College of Florida (BCF) in Graceville ushered in the sounds of Christmas at the annual Christmas Festival of Music performances held Dec. 2 and 3. Three highly anticipated performances were well attended as musical favorites for all ages were performed and enjoyed.

The annual concert provided an uplifting celebration of the birth of Christ, combined with classic holiday favorites and even a special visit from a partridge in a pear tree. The program included solo performances as well as esteemed arrangements by instrumentalists, the guitar ensemble, women’s ensemble, male chorale, college singers, college winds and the combined BCF College Choir.

The widely varied presentation of Christmas music ranged from the traditional symphonic tunes and gospel, to the very contemporary heartwarming sounds of today’s Christmas classics. An unprecedented presentation of the Gloria, by Antonio Vivaldi, featured BCF Voice Professor Kimberle Moon, student soloists, the college choir, and college winds.

The annual event showcased talented BCF students from every area of the Music and Worship Division as well as throughout the college. Performers and instrumentalists delighted audiences with moving renditions of “O Holy Night,” “Mary, Did You Know?” “In the First Light,” and “Domini Deus, Agnus Dei.” Adding to the enjoyment each evening, the program concluded with the congregation joining the college choir and college winds to sing a spirited, fun-filled collection of carols.
